

Longest burning light bulb

Share

WHO

LIVERMORE CENTENNIAL LIGHT BULB

WHERE

UNITED STATES (LIVERMORE)

WHEN

1901

The Livermore Centennial Light Bulb, at Firestation #6, Livermore, California, USA, has been burning since it was installed in 1901. As of 2010, the hand-blown bulb has operated at about 4 watts, and has been left on 24 hours a day in order to provide night illumination of the fire engines.

There has only been one break in its operation when it was removed from one fire station and fitted in another.

Records change on a daily basis and are not immediately published online. For a full list of record titles, please use our Record Application Search. (You will need to register / login for access)

Comments below may relate to previous holders of this record.

OFFICIALLY AMAZING™

USING THIS SITE

- Terms & Conditions
- Cookie Policy
- Privacy Policy

CONTACT US

- Get in touch
- GWR for Business: Contact an Account Manager
- 📄 Advertise with us
- Press Centre

English

Deutsch

عربي

Português

Español

日本語

中文

Bahasa Indonesia

Polski

한국어

© Guinness World Records Limited 2026. All rights reserved.

Registered in England No: 541295

Registered Office: Ground Floor, The Rookery, 2 Dyott Street, London, WC1A 1DE, United Kingdom.